

COVID-19/Corona Virus Statement

The ongoing developments with coronavirus (COVID-19) are affecting businesses around the globe.

Barnbrook Systems Ltd are continuing to monitor the ongoing situation and follow advice issued by the UK Government and NHS.

Whilst we recognise this is a time of concern to all our customers, we wish to reassure everyone that we are very much open for business, with the company operating normal opening hours.

Our contingency plan has enabled us to continue operating at the level expected, whilst safeguarding the interests of our employees, and customers.

Barnbrook Systems Ltd totally understand the need for assurance that orders you have placed with Barnbrook will not be delayed. If your order is going to be delayed due to circumstances beyond our control; our internal processes will ensure that as soon as we become aware of any change to the acknowledged delivery dates then we communicate this to our Customers straight away.

In line with current advice, some of our employees are working from home, and we have provided all the necessary resources to enable them to work and communicate efficiently. Our sales team remain available for all your enquiries, we can provide full technical support and our production is operating normally. Please continue to use your existing lines of communication and we kindly request you to use e-mails as primary mode of contact if possible.

Barnbrook Systems Ltd have suspended all business travel and are restricting visitors to our site.

Planning for worst case scenarios, we are also preparing for the eventuality of staff not being able to come into the premises through self-imposed quarantine restrictions, we have members of staff who are multi skilled in different areas of the business.

We believe that these measures will ensure that any future disruption to our services will be beyond our control. We will be constantly assessing the situation and reacting to any changes whilst keeping you informed of such changes through our web site and email.

Please send any further questions to: sales@barnbrook.co.uk